For All Ages

What if you were paid ten million dollars and all you had to do was paint a picture? That's what the famous artist Pate` Brushe` has been assigned to do, but unfortunately he has lost all of his creativity, imagination and inspiration so he has spent the last 6 months playing Guitar Hero instead of painting. But today is the day the museum is expecting the painting to be done so Pate` is then visited by some friends who help him to "BE CREATIVE" his visitors are I.M., Block, and LuLu. No registration is required for this program.

Registration begins
June 12th
